Local partnerships

We were pleased to welcome Regis Chief Operating Officer, Stuart Gula, back to Blayney recently. During his visit Stuart met with residents, local businesses and community organisations including Skillset and Central Tablelands Landcare.

Skillset Land Works and Landcare have done great work with us on seed collection and native tree planting and we look forward to those partnerships continuing if McPhillamys Gold Project is approved.

St Paul's Success

Congratulations to the St Paul's Carcoar Association on their fundraising success. Regis was one of many donors who pitched in to fund the purchase of St Pauls Church which is a great result for the community.

Regards,

Volunteers needed for the Blayney Visitor Information Centre—can you help?

If you have a few hours to spare the Blayney Visitor Information Centre would love to hear from you.

The Centre is currently looking for more volunteers to help out at their shop front which is open Monday-Saturday from 9am-2pm (if volunteers are available).

The Centre provides free maps and brochures with advice on local attractions, accommodation, restaurants and cafes.
