

Project Update

Tony McPaul
Manager
Special Projects

Project progress

Covid 19 continues to present challenges for everyone in our community, including local businesses like Regis.

But, despite the lockdowns, restrictions and changes to the way we work, we are staying safe and staying on track.

We haven't been able to meet with as many local groups or attend events as often as we have in the past, but we're staying in touch in other ways.

Wherever possible, we have switched to online meetings or telephone catch-ups, to continue our work with local stakeholders.

This includes our close neighbours, as we work them on individual property plans and negotiated agreements.

Zooming with students

Online meetings are a daily feature of our project work, including a class with Blayney High students on the topic of sustainability.

Environmental Superintendent Danielle Wallace chatted with students on sustainability topics including environmental, economic and community benefits and negatives of the project.

We're always available to discuss the project if you have questions, so don't hesitate to get in touch.

Regards,
Tony.

Tony McPaul
Manager Special Projects,
Regis Resources

Right: (Top) Zoom class with Blayney High students and (bottom) Regis' Covid-safe work practices include face masks, and temperature checks.

