

Project Update

Kath Logan
External Relations
Manager

Have your say

With the Independent Planning Commission (IPC) public hearings on the McPhillamys Project on 6-8 February 2023 there is still time for locals to have their say on the project.

We know the project has many local supporters but their voices are often not heard. If you'd like the IPC to consider your views when they make the final decision on McPhillamys, you have until 15 February to do a written submission. You can do a submission online at:

<https://www.ipcn.nsw.gov.au/projects/2022/11/mcphillamys-gold-project>

Volunteers needed

As a supporter of local groups such as Can Assist, Meals on Wheels, and Blayney Men's Shed, Regis understands the importance of volunteers in country towns. So many of the great services and facilities in Blayney and surrounding villages rely on them to keep their doors open.

If you have time to spare for a good cause this year, you might like to consider volunteering. It's a great way to meet people, stay active and stay connected while providing important community services.

For info on local groups go to:
www.mycommunitydirectory.com.au/New\_South\_Wales/Blayney

Regards,
Kath Logan
External Relations Manager
Regis Resources

Above: Regis staff Louise Hobby (left) and Stacey McFawn (centre) took the opportunity to talk to girls from Blayney High School about non-traditional trades.

Girls Can Do Anything!

One of the great things about mining is the opportunity it provides for women to work in non-traditional roles.

It's very encouraging to see TAFE and local schools promoting these options through the Girls Can Too program.

Blayney High School girls in Years 9 and 10 recently took part in the seven week program, trying a range of trades including automotive mechanical, painting and decorating and electrical.