Project approved

Regis Resources is pleased to advise that the New South Wales Independent Planning Commission (IPC) has granted consent for the McPhillamys Gold Project.

Regis is very pleased that the long and thorough planning assessment process has concluded with an approval for the Project. And we appreciate the community's patience and understanding during the years it has taken to get to this point.

The IPC carefully considered advice and recommendations from a wide range of NSW Government agencies, as well as written submissions and presentations made to the Public Hearing in Blayney in February 2023.

The IPC's Determination Report states: "After careful consideration of the material, and having taken into account the views of the community, the Commission has determined that development consent should be granted for the Application, subject to conditions... the Commission finds that, on balance, the Application is in the public interest."

The Project will provide hundreds of new jobs and local business opportunities, benefitting Blayney and the broader Central West. We look forward to working with the community to deliver those benefits safely and responsibly.

Next steps

We will now develop a final feasibility study and funding strategy for the project. These are the final steps prior to the Regis Board making a Final Investment Decision on the project.

Autumn planting for McPhillamys neighbours

McPhillamys Project neighbours are gearing up for the Autumn planting season with over a 1000 native trees donated by Regis. The annual Regis tree giveaway uses native tube-stock grown at the Central Tablelands Landcare nursery in Bathurst. All the trees are native and were grown from locally-sourced seeds.
